Berkeley Art Center is pleased to be the recipient of the exclusive June 8 performance of Cielo Vertical Arts in the Tower designed by internationally acclaimed artist Ann Hamilton at the Oliver Ranch in Geyserville, CA. This unforgettable experience will bring a limited number of guests to the private grounds of the Tower, a unique acoustic environment and a new type of performance space defined by two staircases built in a double-helix form. The Oliver Ranch is a world-renowned sculpture ranch owned by collector and developer Steven Oliver and his wife Nancy. Located in the heart of Sonoma County, 70 miles north of San Francisco, and known for its wineries and scenic pleasures, the Oliver Ranch is home to 18 remarkable site-specific installations that can be experienced by reservation or invitation only. More information on the Tower and Oliver Ranch can be found at www.oliverranchfoundation.org/towerperformances. Join our board members, including Josh Oliver, Steven Oliver's son, for this special summer outing and performance!

Space is limited. Reserve your spot today!
